EQUINE PROFILE

ANGEL

Breed: Arab x Paint

Sex: Mare

Approximate Birth Year: 2016

Height: 14 Hands

Horsenality: Right Brain Introvert

Spirit Level: Medium

Training Status: Groundwork – Beginning

Background: Angel was a part of an eight horse seizure in Central Wisconsin in the fall of 2018. One horse had perished due to starvation, and the rest were in very poor condition. Angel's body score was a 1.5. She was still nursing on her mother and had little to no interaction with humans. She was so weak that her front legs shook constantly. She is definitely over at the knees due to a lack of intervention after she was born. Her tendons were tight, and could have been relaxed with antibiotic treatment. The only possible "fix" now is Check Ligament Surgery.

General Observations: Now that Angel is at a proper weight, she is comfortable. Her front legs occasionally shake, but she runs like the wind, jumps and bucks. She could probably not hold a rider, but may be suitable for light driving. Angel is now very curious and friendly. She loves to be brushed and fussed over. She is quite a brave little horse, which would make her a great prospect for in-hand trail competition. She has a true "Medicine Hat" coloring and blue eyes.
