Horsenality: Left Brain Introvert

Background: Buck was a part of an eight horse seizure in Central Wisconsin in the fall of 2018. One horse had perished due to starvation, and the rest were in very poor condition. Buck's body score was a 2. She had severe heaves from being fed moldy hay. The attending vet recommended euthanasia. But given our success with natural remedies for heaves, we wanted to give her a chance.

General Observations: Buck has completely recovered and is in beautiful condition. Her heaves were brought under control with curcumin and a dust-free hay product called Chaffhaye. In the summer she is fine on grass.

Buck is friendly and personable. She is quite independent in her herd. Buck has supposedly been ridden, but we would recommend a restart with a Natural Horsemanship trainer.
